

Standard Electric Supply Co. REPAIR SERVICES

With Standard Electric's Automation Repair Services, you are now able to place an order with Standard Electric for repair of most major brands of automation equipment, including Rockwell/Allen Bradley. In fact, Standard Electric now offers repair services for over 120,000 products from hundreds of manufacturers.

Service for products is offered from multiple manufacturers of:

- AC and DC Drives
- Servo Drives and Motors
- Human Machine Interfaces
- Programmable Logic Controllers
- Metering Equipment
- Discrete I/O Products

This expanded service offering provides industrial end-users with a quick turnaround time and warranty on complete repaired or exchanged products, not limited to just the repaired portion of the product. Additionally, customers have access to an inventory of refurbished equipment from all major manufacturers.
